

Negro Classes Enlarged

Harbor College classes in Negro history and literature have been expanded for the spring semester.

New to the curriculum in the evening division will be English 20, Mainstream of American Negro Literature. The class will meet from 6:15 to 9:15 Tuesdays and will be taught by Mrs. Vera Mosley.

Also being introduced is Social Science 12, the Afro-American in Contemporary Urban Society. It will meet Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 and will be taught by Ramon Mann.

Mann also will continue a class he started this semester, History 16, History of the Afro-American. It meets Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:30.

In the regular program Floyd Hayes will teach a class in History of Africa (History 27) Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 8 a.m.

The classes are open to district residents who are high school graduates at least 18 years of age. Applications for admission are now being accepted at the College.

Last date to apply for admission is January 10. Further information may be obtained by phoning the college.

Lettering Courses Scheduled

A night course in Lettering is being offered in the art curriculum at Los Angeles Harbor College to meet the demands of an expanding enrollment this spring.

The class, Art 40, is required of all commercial art majors. It will teach commercial reproduction lettering for graphic design, brush lettering and lettering indication in layout.

Carlos Rico, College Illustrator is the instructor. In addition to his position with the College he has had extensive experience as a free-lance artist.

Class hours will be from 6 to 10 p.m. on Thursdays. These courses are tuition free to district residents who are high school graduates or at least 18 years of age. Applications for admission are now being accepted at the College.

All persons intending to attend Harbor College must apply before January 10. Further information may be obtained by phoning the College.

Law In Action

Harry was a real cool cat. He just could not stand the warm summer weather. And so he bought the biggest air-conditioner he could find for his new home.

His neighbor, Sam, liked Harry's house, but not after hearing the air conditioner going on and off all night long. During the day, the unit's noise just blended in with neighborhood background noise. But at night it bothered Sam's sleeping.

Sam asked Harry to get a small unit or turn the big one off after ten at night. Harry refused. Poor Sam and his wife had baggy eyes and frayed nerves. Their health suffered.

SAM SUED and won a judgment from Harry for $3,500 for damages to his health, and got the court to order Harry to turn off his unit from 10 p.m. to 8 a.m. Or else.

Sam's sound engineers showed that Harry could have cut the noise of his unit without warming his house much. In fact, Harry had made unreasonable use of his home area and annoyed his neighbors. An owner has quite a lot of freedom to use and enjoy his land but, in doing so, he cannot unreasonably interfere with his neighbor's enjoyment of his.

In short, Harry created a "nuisance" which a court injunction can stop.

SUCH nuisances are public nuisances when they violate the zoning laws, health codes, or building restrictions. A person with more animals around than the health code permits is causing a public nuisance. Under the state law, a fence needlessly higher than 10 feet, built to annoy neighbors, is called a "spite fence." It is illegal. Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Establish Deadline For Bands

Bands, combos, vocal groups, and vocal soloists have until Jan. 15 to enter Los Angeles County's 10th annual Battle of the Bands, according to Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

Youthful amateur and non-union contestants who survive auditions will "battle" with song and music during preliminaries for the chance to perform from the stage of Hollywood Bowl, he said.

Three finalists from each division — School Dance Bands, Dance Bands, Combos, Vocal Groups, and Vocal Soloists — will be judged during the culminating evening Bowl program slated for June 27.

Applicants who wish to enter the county-wide musical competition, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, must have reached their 13th birthday prior to Jan. 1, and not be 21 before July 1, Chace explained.

Veterans Face New Deadline

Thousands of Los Angeles County veterans, widows, and dependent parents receiving Veterans Administration pensions face a delay in payments if they fail to return their annual income questionnaires to the VA by Jan. 15.

This warning came today from Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, chairman of military and veterans affairs for the Board of Supervisors. He urged pensioners not to wait until the deadline, noting that Feb. 1 checks will not be issued unless the questionnaire has been processed and cleared.

In some cases, he cautioned, extra time will be needed for processing. Cards which have information requiring further investigation or adjustments, including those indicating probable reduction in payments, will be forwarded to the regional office for handling. Incomplete cards, constituting 15 percent of those already submitted, will be returned to the pensioner.

Citing the importance of accuracy and completeness in answering the forms, Hahn recommended that pensioners avail themselves of free professional assistance at the Military and Veterans Affairs office at 415 W. Ocean Blvd., Long Beach.

Sepulveda Revamped At Freeway

New turning regulations affecting motorists and truckers entering Sepulveda Boulevard from the driveway opposite the southbound Harbor Freeway ramps were revealed today by Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

"Regulations now call for all northbound vehicles to turn right when using the driveway opposite the southbound Harbor Freeway ramps," Chace said.

The regulations, of great importance to drivers in the Carson and adjacent area, are designed to alleviate congestion and potential conflict, the Supervisor noted.

The exact location is Sepulveda Boulevard east of Vermont Avenue.

Dismiss Charges Against Tavern

SACRAMENTO — The state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has dismissed an accusation against the off-sale general liquor license held by Jan A. Jacobs and Leonardus J. Perry, 3217 Pacific Coast Hwy.

The establishment had been accused of sale to a minor and a previous violation of the alcoholic beverage control act. Dismissal of the charges was recommended by a hearing officer after receiving testimony.

Birch Society To Show Film

The South Bay and Harbor Area chapters of the John Birch Society will present a free showing of the film, "A Brief Introduction to the John Birch Society," Thursday at 8 p.m.

The film, which runs 1 hour and 15 minutes, will be screened at the American Opinion Library, 1532 W. Carson St. Robert Morgan, society coordinator, will conduct a discussion following the film.
